Introduction

In the early days after Christ's ascension to the Father's right hand, the young Church expected it would be a short time until Christ returned to establish His kingdom on earth. While they never lost their hope in the Lord's return, it became increasingly clear that the purpose of God was more complex and more wonderful than they had imagined. Their duty was not just to evangelize as much of the world as possible before the Lord returned; their duty was to grow in grace and in the knowledge of their Lord Jesus Christ. Christ was preparing a place for them, but God was also at work, preparing them for that place. As Paul told the churches on his first missionary journey, "we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God" (Acts 4:22). The tribulations in themselves did not prepare them for the kingdom, but through these tribulations their faith in Christ was tested and strengthened. At the same time, they were learning the "many things" that Jesus had told the disciples in the upper room before His death, that they had yet to learn (John 15:12-15). This was one of the important reasons that Jesus had sent His Holy Spirit on the Day of Pentecost. Inspired by the Holy Spirit, the Apostles first taught and then later recorded these "many things" in a collection of writings that soon would make up our New Testament. Many were in the form of letters written to the New Testament churches. It is six of these epistles, four by Paul and two by Peter, to which we turn in our study, guided by this booklet.

All of the writings of the New Testament are equally valuable to us. However, it is of particular value for us to hear what the Holy Spirit had to teach later in the New Testament era. All of these epistles were written after the Church had been established for many years. There had been much growth, both in numbers and in spiritual maturity as they awaited Christ's return. However, Christ had not returned. Rather, they were facing many tribulations. Paul was in prison. Many of the believers were suffering, and in a variety of ways. The Word of God was under attack by false teachers. In a sense, it seemed that all was for nought.

The six epistles in our study are each unique but have a common purpose to help the early believers understand what they must know to endure to the glory of God. They wanted to teach the maturing Church that this was not mere delay, but a time in which the "manifold wisdom of God" was being displayed in heavenly places by the Church. It was a time in which Christ was being magnified in the lives of His faithful servants. It was a time in which the preeminence of Christ would be seen as His saints devoted themselves to pleasing Him in all aspects of daily living.

Perhaps the best summary of these two apostles' words to a maturing Church is expressed by Paul: If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God. When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory (Colossians 3:1-4).

We are partakers of the life of Christ. It will be a great blessing to see Him and be with Him in His glory. It is also a great blessing to live as His people in a world of tribulation. A people whose affection is set upon Christ will be diligent to please Him in daily living. They will desire to know Him more as He is revealed in the written Word of God. They will reject false teachers who would deprive them of this knowledge. They will see life as a spiritual warfare in which they can honor Christ by standing against the wiles of the devil. They will rejoice in tribulation, as an opportunity to prove the genuineness of their faith in Christ. Paul and Peter, in these late epistles, want to focus the eyes of the Church in all generations upon the majesty and glory of the Lord Jesus Christ. We too will seek this high goal in our study of these old but timeless epistles.

Scripture Memory

Philippians 2:5-11

5. Let this mind be in you,
which was also in Christ Jesus:

6. Who, being in the form of God,
thought it not robbery to be equal with God:

7. But made himself of no reputation,
and took upon him the form of a servant,
and was made in the likeness of men:

8. And being found in fashion as a man,
he humbled himself,
and became obedient unto death,
even the death of the cross.

9. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him,
and given him a name
which is above every name:

10. That at the name of Jesus
every knee should bow,
of things in heaven,
and things in earth,
and things under the earth;

11. And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord,
to the glory of God the Father.

Scripture Memory (continued)

1 Peter 1:3-9

3. Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,
which according to his abundant mercy
hath begotten us again
unto a lively hope
by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,

4. To an inheritance
incorruptible, and undefiled,
and that fadeth not away,
reserved in heaven for you,

5. Who are kept by the power of God
through faith unto salvation
ready to be revealed in the last time.

6. Wherein ye greatly rejoice,
though now for a season,
if need be,
ye are in heaviness
through manifold temptations:

7. That the trial of your faith,
being much more precious
than of gold that perisheth,
though it be tried with fire,
might be found unto praise and honour and glory
at the appearing of Jesus Christ:

8. Whom having not seen, ye love;
in whom, though now ye see him not,
yet believing,
ye rejoice with joy unspeakable
and full of glory:

9. Receiving the end of your faith,
even the salvation of your souls.

The musical score is written in 4/4 time with a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat). It consists of two systems, each with a vocal line (treble clef) and a bass line (bass clef). The lyrics are printed between the two staves of each system.

1. May the mind of Christ, my Sav-ior, Live in me from day to day,
2. May the Word of God dwell rich-ly, In my heart from hour to hour,
3. May the peace of God, my Fa-ther, Rule my life in ev-ery-thing,
4. May the love of Je-sus fill me, As the wa-ters fill the sea;
5. May I run the race be-fore me, Strong and brave to face the foe,
6. May His beau-ty rest up-on me As I seek the lost to win,

By His love and pow'r con-trol-ling All I do and say.
So that all may see I tri-umph On-ly through His pow'r.
That I may be calm to com-fort Sick and sor-row-ing.
Him ex-alt-ing, self a-bas-ing, This is vic-to-ry.
Look-ing on-ly un-to Je-sus As I on-ward go.
And may they for-get the chan-nel, See-ing on-ly Him.

Outline of the Second Epistle of Peter

- I. Introduction: The Apostle's Greeting (2 Peter 1:1-4).

The emphasis is upon what we all have in Christ. This is the beginning of what the Apostle Peter would say especially about THE PRESENT.
- II. Their Present Need (2 Peter 1:5-21).

While there is no difference between the believers, then or now, as to what we have in Christ, yet as far as our growth in the Lord is concerned, there are always great differences. But God's ultimate purpose for us all is the same. We are saved to be made like our Lord Jesus Christ.

  - A. Their need to add to their faith (1:5-11).

Note Peter's emphasis on "these things" in verses 8, 9, 10, 12, and 15. He was emphasizing their need for spiritual growth.
  - B. The Apostle Peter's great concern for them (1:12-21).

His concern went beyond his own lifetime, and that is one reason he was writing to them.
- III. Warnings from THE PAST (2 Peter 2:1-22).

This basically has to do with false teachers, false teaching, and sinful living. This chapter illustrates why it is so important for us to read the Old Testament as well as the New Testament. We need to know about God's judgment of angels, His judgment on the whole world in the days of Noah, Sodom and Gomorrah, and even Balaam. False teachers will lead us into sin. The Bible teaches us that God is not only a God of love, but that he is righteous, and that He judges sin.
- IV. Assurance Regarding THE FUTURE (2 Peter 3:1-16).

Peter began the epistle by speaking about the promises of God; he concludes his epistle on the same note. See verses 4, 9, 13. God's promises are all sure and certain. Therefore, our hope in the promises should affect the way we live.
- V. Conclusion (2 Peter 3:17-18).

In verse 17 we have a warning; in verse 18 a command to continue to grow in grace and in the knowledge of "our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ." To be growing spiritually is our greatest safeguard against sin and false teaching.
